Description

Due to the nature of the Haines Hunter 675 Offshore Hard Top, we do not list prices or package online. Please contact the team to discuss your Haines Hunter 675 Offshore Hard Top.

The Haines Hunter 675 Offshore Hard Top is a premier choice for serious anglers who demand both protection and convenience during their offshore adventures. Built with the true offshore fisherman in mind, this model features a fully molded Hard Top, providing superior shelter from the elements while still allowing the flexibility of adding or removing clears as needed. The Hard Top is not just about protection; it's equipped with 11 overhead rod holders and Rockford Fosgate speakers, making it both functional and enjoyable. The spacious deck accommodates up to six large adult anglers comfortably, ensuring that you can bring your entire crew along for the ride.

What sets the 675 Offshore Hard Top apart from other models, such as the Enclosed versions, is its emphasis on open yet protected space. While the Enclosed models offer a fully sealed cabin for ultimate weather protection, the Hard Top version strikes a balance, offering ample airflow and visibility while still providing coverage from harsh conditions. This makes it ideal for those who want a rugged, versatile boat without feeling too closed off from the marine environment. The customized molded dashboard and the addition of a dive door highlight the model's thoughtful design, catering to the needs of keen offshore boaters who require easy access for both diving and handling large catches.

Furthermore, the 675 Offshore Hard Top includes features tailored for serious fishing enthusiasts. The twin live bait tanks with viewing windows and easy-access hatch doors enhance your fishing capabilities, while the large molded bowsprit and enclosed winch provide a tidy and functional front end. For added versatility, the boat offers a removable rotating leaning post, ensuring stability when battling big fish. Whether you're out for a day of hardcore fishing or a leisurely cruise, the 675 Offshore Hard Top delivers unmatched performance, making it a must-have for dedicated offshore boaters.
